

"Unlocking the Secrets of White-Collar Crime: Alan Saquella, CPP, CPE, Esteemed Professor and Security Expert, Offers Invaluable Insights for Media Seeking Expertise in Corporate Investigations, Fraud Prevention, Identity Theft, Corporate Fraud and Espionage and Organized Retail Crime."

Alan Saquella is a distinguished security and investigations expert with an impressive three-decade career spanning both corporate and public sectors. Currently serving as a dedicated full-time professor at Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University's College of Business, Security, and Intelligence, Alan brings a wealth of experience to the classroom. His commitment to cultivating the next generation of security, intelligence, and fraud examiners is evident in his passionate teaching and mentorship.

Before his academic role, Alan held a pivotal position as the Security Operations and Investigations Director at Cox Communications, a national telecommunications company. Leading a team of certified fraud examiners, investigators, and security professionals, he spearheaded investigations into internal and external white-collar and corporate crimes against and within the corporation. Over the course of his tenure, Alan and his team successfully investigated tens of thousands of crimes, solidifying his reputation as a seasoned professional in the field.

Alan's influence extends beyond the classroom, marked by his prolific contributions to literature. He has authored numerous papers and articles covering essential topics such as business security, employee safety, and internal fraud prevention. His expertise has garnered attention from prominent media outlets, leading to interviews, podcasts, and speaking engagements on various aspects of white-collar crime, investigations, and related subjects.

In September 2023, Alan co-authored the book "Security Investigations: A Professional's Guide," further establishing his authority in the industry. This book stands as a testament to his commitment to sharing knowledge and insights with fellow professionals.

While Alan's primary focus is academia, he actively contributes to the industry by providing strategic guidance on security, safety, and fraud prevention to diverse organizations. As a member of the Identity Theft Advisory Board, he engages in community outreach, advocates for prevention strategies, and champions best practices in areas such as business identity theft, fraud prevention, child identification theft, and internet safety and security.

Alan's academic background includes master's and bachelor's degrees in law enforcement and administration from Northern Arizona University. He holds memberships in esteemed professional associations, including the American Society for Industrial Security, the American Polygraph Association, and Infra-Gard. His credentials are further reinforced by his status as a Certified Protection Professional (CPP) and a Certified Polygraph Examiner (CPE).

For those seeking to connect with Alan, he welcomes inquiries via email at alan.saguella@erau.edu or through his LinkedIn profile at LinkedIn - Alan Saguella. Alan's extensive experience and unwavering dedication to the field make him an invaluable resource for anyone seeking profound insights into security, investigations, and fraud prevention.
